Art Guild

The Beatrice Art Guild enjoys year-around fun. In early January we take a break from the usual meeting to have a New Year celebration party at a local restaurant. This year it will be at Legends in Claytonia on the first Saturday. We will have a "hand-made" gift exchange with gifts either made by local artists. A special award will be presented to three members who completed all twelve monthly art challenge projects.

For the second year, the Association of Nebraska Art Clubs (ANAC) traveling exhibit will be shown in the Carnegie Building for two weeks in March. The show consists of the top 25 works out of over 400 works submitted State-wide for judging in the June ANAC conference. One of the pieces that will be on display was produced by Beatrice artist, Nancy Thompson. It is a large pastel dog portrait. Membership dues for the Beatrice Art Guild also pays for membership in ANAC.

The art in the Carnegie Building is changed almost every month of the year. The public is encouraged to stop in during normal Monday through Friday business hours to view it. A special committee of the Beatrice Area Arts Council plans for and executes the exhibit changes. Thanks to committee members: Sue McLain, Kevin Boesiger, Bob McClelland, Andrew Johnson, Jamie Ulmer, Jerome Pugsley, Lora Young, Nancy Thompson, and Lisa Wiegand.

The Beatrice Art Guild meets once a month, usually on the first Saturdays at 1:00 PM. Guests are welcome and encouraged to attend. Meetings consist of discussions of upcoming events and workshops, plans for trips, snacks, and a creative project or presentation. Membership is $22 per year and includes membership with ANAC, Assoc. of Nebraska Art Clubs. Call for more information and directions. Nancy Thompson, 402-230-9757 or Roselyn Shaffer at 402-228-0426.
